The accompanying statement of financial condition of the Company has been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

(b) Use of Estimates

The preparation of the statement of financial condition in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the statement of financial condition and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

(f) Fixed Assets

Furniture and equipment are recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is recorded on a straight-line basis using estimated useful lives of the assets, ranging from five to seven years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the economic useful lives of the improvements or the term of the lease.

(g) Due to Broker-Dealers and Clearing Organizations and Due from Customer

In its capacity as a sponsor of unit investment trusts, the Company records amounts due to broker-dealers and clearing organizations for unsettled sales transactions of securities and unit investment trusts. The Company also records amounts due from customer for unsettled purchase transactions of securities and unit investment trusts.

(h) Income Taxes

The Company is organized as a Delaware limited liability company and treated as a disregarded entity for U.S. income tax purposes and has no federal tax liability. State tax liabilities are determined under individual state laws. The Company's income is included in the federal and state income tax returns of the tax regarded entity.

Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) ASC Topic 740-10, Income Taxes (ASC 740-10) requires the evaluation of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the course of preparing the Company's tax returns to determine whether the tax positions are "more likely than not" of being sustained by applicable tax authority based upon technical merits of the position. Tax benefits from tax positions not deemed to meet the more-likely-than-not threshold should not be recognized in the year of determination. Management has reviewed the Company's tax positions for all open years and concluded that the Company has no material uncertain tax positions at December 31, 2018. Further, as of December 31, 2018, the Company has recorded no liability for net unrecognized tax benefits relating to uncertain tax positions they have taken or expect to take in future tax returns. The Company has not recorded any penalties and/or interest related to uncertain tax positions.

(i) Unit-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for unit-based compensation under Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation (ASC 718). Awards with graded vesting are treated as a single award (although the Company may value each tranche separately).

(j) New Accounting Pronouncements

Revenue from Contracts with Customers

In May 2014, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606). Topic 606 supersedes the revenue recognition requirements in ASC Topic 605, Revenue Recognition, and requires entities to recognize revenue when they transfer control of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. Topic 606 also requires additional disclosure about the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from customer contracts, including significant judgments and changes in judgments and assets recognized from costs incurred to obtain or fulfill a contract. Topic 606 permits the use of either the retrospective or cumulative effect transition method. The FASB has issued several amendments to the standard, including principal versus agent guidance and identifying performance obligations. The Company adopted Topic 606 effective January 1, 2018 using the modified retrospective transition method applied to those contracts which were not completed as of that date. The adoption of Topic 606 did not have a material impact to the Company's statement of financial condition. No cumulative effect adjustment to retained earnings was recorded as a result of the adoption of Topic 606.

Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

December 31, 2018

The Company elected the practical expedients permitted in the guidance to (i) exclude contracts with a duration of one year or less; and (ii) exclude variable consideration that is allocated entirely to unsatisfied performance obligations. Excluded variable consideration typically relates to contracts with a duration of one year or less and is generally constrained due to uncertainties.

The timing of revenue recognition may differ from the timing of payments by customers. A receivable is recorded when revenue is recognized prior to payment and it has an unconditional right to payment. Alternatively, when payment precedes the provision of related services, revenue is deferred until the performance obligations have been satisfied.

The Company had receivables related to contracts with customers of $15,094,176 at December 31, 2018, of which $10,456,210 is included in accounts receivable, and $4,637,966 is included in receivable from affiliates in the statement of financial condition. There were no impairments related to these receivables during the year.

Leases

In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, Leases (ASU 2016-02). This ASU, as amended, provides comprehensive guidance on the accounting and disclosure requirements for leases and increases transparency and comparability among organizations by requiring the recognition of all leases exceeding one year on the statement of financial condition. Most prominent among the changes in the standard is the recognition of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities by lessees for leases classified as operating leases under current GAAP. The right-of-use asset and lease liability will initially be measured based on the present value of the remaining rental payments. The guidance is effective for annual and interim periods beginning after December 15, 2018.

The Company will adopt the new lease standard in the first quarter of the 2019 fiscal year, with a cumulative-effect adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings in the period of adoption. The Company's implementation efforts have included identifying the population of contracts which will be within the scope of the standard and implementing internal controls and certain other process changes to enable the Company to comply with the accounting requirements of this guidance. Although a significant portion of the population of contracts subject to recognition on the statement of financial condition have been identified, their initial measurement remains under evaluation. While the Company has not yet completed its evaluation of the standard and the related impact on the financial statement, the Company believes the standard will not have a material impact on the statement of financial condition. The most notable impact will be the recognition of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for operating leases. The Company continues to evaluate the effect of ASU 2016-02, including the changes to the related disclosures.

(3) Fair Value Measurements

Management estimates the fair value of financial instruments recognized in the statement of financial condition (including receivables, payables and accrued expenses) approximate their fair value, as such financial instruments are either reported at fair value or are short-term in nature, bear interest at current market rates or are subject to frequent repricing.

ASC 820-10, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value. This guidance also addresses fair value of an instrument when the volume and level of activity for an asset or liability have decreased significantly and provides guidance for determining the concurrent weighting of the transaction price relative to fair value indications from other valuation techniques when estimating fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1 Inputs that reflect unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Company has the ability to access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly, including inputs in markets that are not considered to be active; and
- Level 3 Inputs that are unobservable.

Inputs are used in applying the various valuation techniques and broadly refer to the assumptions that market participants use to make valuation decisions, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may include price information, volatility statistics, specific and broad credit data, and liquidity statistics, among other factors. A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The Company assesses its financial instruments on a quarterly basis to determine their appropriate classification within the fair value hierarchy. Transfers between fair value classifications occur when there are changes in pricing observability levels. Transfers of financial instruments among the levels are deemed to occur at the end of the reporting period. There were no material transfers between the Company's Level 1, Level 2 and Level 3 classified instruments during the year ended December 31, 2018.

The Company did not own any financial assets or liabilities that would be considered Level 3 within the fair value hierarchy as of or during the year ended December 31, 2018.
